

Getting ready for blended and remote learning

What is blended learning?

Discuss what the word blended means to you?

Blended learning is a mixture of learning at school and at home. Due to Coronavirus, there may be times when we have to do this.

DISCUSSION

What is remote learning?

Discuss what the word remote means to you?

Remote learning is when we learn away from school. There might come a time when the whole class might be off together. In this case, we would move to remote learning.

DISCUSSION

RM Unify will help us with our blended & remote learning

RM Unify will help you to quickly access the other apps and learning platforms that we use, such as Purple Mash, MyMaths and SeeSaw. It will also have a tile which will take you to Teams, where you can have an online lesson with your teacher.

When using SeeSaw in school, we logon using a shared class QR code. There are placed around the classroom.

When use SeeSaw at home, we login using our personal Home Learning Code. This is a personal code and should not be shared with others.

If I am isolating at home, how do I continue with my learning?

Each week, your teacher will upload work to the school website.

Click on 'Children'.

Then, click on 'Home Learning'.

Finally, click on your class's name.

If I am isolating at home, how do I continue with my learning?

Sometimes, on your plan for the week, there will be a link to an online lesson or video. It could be a White Rose video, or even a link to a lesson on Oak Academy. Let's have a look at what one looks like: <https://www.thenational.academy/>

If my whole class is isolating at home, how do I continue with my learning?

Make sure you click on your class page, then find the correct page for this week.

Your teacher will upload activities onto the Home Learning page on the school website. Each week, there will be a timetable of activities for each day (Mon~Fri) – just like in school! It will tell you what to do, and if there are any videos, websites or presentations to use.

You will then be asked to upload your completed work to your SeeSaw account (just like you do for homework).

You should also make sure you make plenty of time to play, do something creative and stay active.

How do we stay safe whilst working online using SeeSaw?
