| 1    | anonymous | The online safety workshop was extremely useful and enlightening. SEND meeting was very helpful and informative, I would've liked more information on what help and intervention school provides.                                                                    |
| 2    | anonymous | The phonics workshop was helpful to ensure we were using them correctly. More sessions like this where we can ensure we are aligned to teaching methods/the upcoming curriculum would be appreciated.                                                                |
| 3    | anonymous | Ideas for home learning but also being able to observe our child's behaviour in class. This gives us more to talk about at parents evening.                                                                                                                          |
| 4    | anonymous | I'd love to know if they follow a particular schedule for their classes I often ask what they have done in the day and they conveniently don't remember. It would be great to know a rough guide to which lessons on which days so we can talk to them more about it |
| 5    | anonymous | I enjoy getting to see what my child is learning                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 6    | anonymous | It was good to talk with other parents going through similar things and sharing experiences.                                                                                                                                                                         |

| 1    | anonymous | There have been some recent challenges at school in relation to minor injuries as a result of another child's behaviour. I'm happy to see that mitigation steps have been taken. I'm also glad to see Science is starting to come through in the curriculum. I have been concerned that at contrast, religion was being taught so early and, for want of a better phrase, being absorbed as fact (if not taught that way). I am more than happy for my child to form their own beliefs, but it has felt unbalanced until recently. |

| 2 | anonymous | Mrs Coupe has been absolutely brilliant. She goes above and beyond. She thinks about children's needs and even spots things outside of school to recommend like dance classes. She works very hard and always has so much out for the children to do. Possibly even too much choice sometimes leaving lots of set up and tidy time. She listens with intent to understand but equally is a great problem solver. Mrs Whitby runs a very tight ship but also seems to have fun with the children at time. I am great fully for the time given to listen to our thoughts and worries. Also grateful they she is open to change when needed. Mrs Tomlinson is amazing and so much for with the children. Thank you and please keep being you. Mrs Smith works incredibly hard too and is always doing something different. Preparing toast, cleaning sinks or shoveling snow. There will be many more people holding everything together and I was to thank them all for working as a team to make a really special school. |

| 4 | anonymous | It's challenge with the school being so small, but we have some talented young sports people in the school. A wider sports programme would be ace (football team as an example) but appreciate that requires volunteers and also only a small number of children so numbers may not justify. |
| 5 | anonymous | Westhouses is a fantastic school, my childbis safe, happy and making good progress. The pastoral support the school offer is second to none.                                                                                                                                                 |
